GENERAL NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE ORIGONIAN

The telegraph lines were up a few hours yesterday but went down south of Yreka early in the evening Hence our brief news report

Sawyer Wins in Wisconsin.

MADISON, Jan 26—Philetus Sawyer was to-day elected U S senator

The Democrats Win at Nashville.

NASHVILLE Jan 26—On the 30th ballot Judge E Jackson, state credit democrat was elected U S senator

Singular Cause of Death

St Louis Jan 26—Archibald Gibson second lieutenant of the 5th U S cavalry, and son of a prominent lawyer, died here to-day of inflammation of the brain caused by a singular event occurring while he was a West Point student One day while on parade a spider got into his ear The rules prohibited his removing it and he stood in the ranks while the creature worked its way into the ear and when he was dismissed the ear was full of blood This caused corrosion of the bone next to the brain, and he has never been completely well since although having done hard service in Dakota

Prolonged Street Blockade at New York

New York, Jan 26—A traffic blockade has begun in the lower part of the city, which continues from early morning till late at night The blockade extends along Canal street from Broadway to West street and is caused by a large number of trucks with goods for shipment on railroads It has lasted two weeks, and seems to grow worse daily

Fall of Top Coal at Wilkesburre

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan 27—The largest fall of top coal and rock ever known in this valley occurred in the Empire mines this afternoon Two thousand tons fell burying two miners Hundreds of men are at work digging for the bodies The cause of the fall is not yet known

Prof. Hind Again.

CHICAGO, Jan 26—The Tribune's Halifax special gives a long letter from Henry Lesile Hind to the governor general of Canada, in which Hind charges that Sir John A MacDonald and Hon. Peter Mitchell in their answers to his statements respecting fabricated statistics have made misleading assertions for the sake of deceiving the people of the west. He believes their letters had a concerted origin because these gentlemen of denying what they know to be true, and further, Peter Mitchell probably knows that had as are the falsified statistics of the Manitoba fish catch about Selkirk, they are trifles compared with falsified trade tables sworn to in evidence, and numerous false entries that were made in custom returns in Ottawa from year to year all the way from 1871 to 1877 He promises the governor general a formulated statement of his charges before long

THE "PUBLICUS" BUSINESS STATEMENT.

A Good Showing for the Week—Steady Trade without Excitement.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—To-day's Public has its usual weekly table of clearing house transactions, showing the course of trade as compared with the corresponding week of last year. The week was one of very active business at nearly all the cities. New York and Boston are recorded as the largest. The increase at Chicago was surprisingly large, and only an insignificant decline is reported at 5 of the 21 cities

Following is a list of gains: New York, 45 per cent, Boston, 31.8, Philadelphia, 2.0 Chicago, 33.6 Cincinnati, 34.2 Baltimore, 22.1 Louisville, 42.0 Milwaukee, 9.0 Providence, 30.5, Kansas City, 22.6 Cleveland, 23.3 Indianapolis 28.8 Hartford, 5.2 New Haven, 24.6, Lowell, 8.—, Syracuse, 12.0

Following are the losses St. Louis, 6.5; New Orleans 1.3 San Francisco, 4.10, Pittsburg 8.7, St. Joseph, 8.0,

The reasons of unprecedented changes may be regarded with the more satisfaction because prices are not inflated, but are lower on the whole than in January 1880, and because dealings outside this city are not inflated by unreasonable speculation; in fact no speculative fever inflates or endangers legitimate business in New York The undue excitement and expansion are almost wholly confined to the stock exchange. In direct branches of business trade is large and unlimited without any general rise or expectation of rise in prices, and the great increase in the export movement only keeps pace with an unusual demand for home consumption. Movement of products here has been greatly impeded by the abominable condition of the streets and the interruption of telegraphic communication, but there was large buying of dry goods, as spring business in breadstuffs has increased despite a cold, raw, iron and ashen season. In provisions there has been more speculative excitement than in other branches of trade and the speculative dealings in petroleum were increased. Last week by a strong rush upon prices and a consequent decline, but the general undiminished, business is undeniably healthy.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Telegraph Investigation Proposed.

WASHINGTON, Jan 26—The report of the postoffice committee was made to-day on Springer's postal telegraph resolution, declaring that it is evident that the public demands protection in telegraph communication from the extortions of a great telegraph monopoly that absorbs its competitors and compels public ways, pays dividends on stock believed to be largely watered, and discourages official inquiry which are made into the facts, and legislation proposed in accordance therewith

Opposition to the Funding Bill.

The committee of the currency to-day opposed before the senate finance committee, the fifth section of the funding bill, on account of the provisions contemplating the surrender of circulating notes and deposits in exchange for bonds, thereby depleting the national banks of their principal means for circulation and deposits, and thereby greatly reducing the profits of circulation, etc

The C. P. R. R. Dividend.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—It has been decided to pay on three per cent. dividend recently declared by the Central Pacific railroad to be paid, subject to existing conditions.

MARSHALL JEWELL Chairman
B W DORSEY, Secretary
GEO W HOOKER, Assistant Secretary

The following plans had been previously submitted at the meeting of July 1, 1880

PLAN OF MR WILLIAM E CHANDLER, OF NEW HAMPSHIRE, OF

The republican national convention of 1884 shall consist of four delegates at large from each state and two delegates from each congressional district, all to be chosen at popular conventions in such manner as the republicans of each state may determine provided the delegates from each congressional district shall be the choice of the republicans of that district. The conventions within the states for the election of delegates to the national convention shall be held at least one month before the time for the meeting of the national convention Notices of such time may be given to the national committee, accompanied by full printed statements of the grounds of contest, which shall also be made public and preference in the order of hearing and determining contests shall be given by the convention according to the dates of the reception of such notices and statements by the national committee

PLAN OF MR. JOHN A MARTIN OF KANSAS

That the republican national convention for 1884 shall be composed as follows

First—Each state shall be entitled to four delegates at large.

Second—Each congressional district shall be entitled to one delegate.

Third—In addition to delegates at large each state shall be entitled to representation in proportion to its republican vote, that is, one delegate for every 3,000 republican votes polled for president in 1880, or fraction of over one-half that number

The meeting of the national committee has been called at Washington March 5, 1881 and Messrs William E. Chandler, Edward McPherson and George C. Gorham have been designated as a committee to receive all suggestions that may be made, and to prepare and submit a plan at that meeting The renewed attention of all republicans is called to this important question, and they are requested to communicate their views at any time before March 1st Editors of republican papers are requested to publish the circular and plans and to discuss the subject editorially

Communications may be addressed to either of the committee at Washington D C

White objected to present consideration and the resolution was laid over

Harris reported favorably a bill relating to quartermasters' stores furnishing the forces of Gen Lew Wallace during the Morgan raid through Indiana and Ohio,

A joint resolution ratifying the settlement of taxes made by the district commissioner with the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad was taken up

White explained that the district commissioner of the two Romes had succeeded in effecting adjustment of a dispute which had lasted fourteen years as to taxes on the company's property in the district The compromise result in a reduction from 300,000 to $75,000 as the amount payable

After further debate the third reading of the bill was ordered—ayes 38 noes [illegible] The bill then passed finally.

Wilson said that he had proposed to attach the naval appropriation bill to-day, but would defer it until to-morrow if the senator from Texas (Coke) believed that the pending Indian bill could speedily be disposed of to-day

Coke replied that in his opinion the final vote could be reached on the latter to-day Consideration of the land in severally bill was then resumed the question being upon Morgan's amendment adding a proviso to the amendment of Hoar, conferring citizenship on Indians taking lands in severalty under the provisions of the bill

Morgan withdrew his amendment temporarily

Hoar's amendment was rejected, ayes 12, noes 32

Plumb moved to amend the 5th section, which provides for the issue of patents for land in the name of the allottees and that lands shall be inalienable and free of taxation for 25 years, by adding a proviso that lands may be leased for such term and on such conditions as may be prescribed by the secretary of the interior

Dawes opposed the amendment as making the Indians a landlord with tenantry, and as designed to utterly destroy the bill

Plumb asserted the object of the government was to make the Indians self supporting, and objected to the bill as it stood as creating a landed aristocracy among the Indians and enabling them in their shiftlessness to lock up a vast domain against cultivation, thus making a constant source of irritation between them and communities by whom they were surrounded

A lengthy colloquy ensued between Plumb Dawes and Hoar upon the record of Massachusetts in the early history of the country in connections with alleged——[Here the line went down]

House.

A motion to dispense with the morning hour was defeated, by 80 to 82 and the speaker directed the clerk to finish reading the bill pending.

Money reported back a resolution directing the postal committee to inquire into the expediency of establishing a telegraphic system under the government and also as to the cost of reproducing existing telegraph facilities—placed on calendar.

Blount demanded the previous question on the Morgan electoral resolution and the vote stood 119 to 116 in favor of taking it up Stephens Speer and Felton voted with the republicans

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The House of Commons.

LONDON Jan. 26—The house of commons was still sitting, at one this afternoon The discussion was peacefully confined to Irish members, who are repeatedly called to order. The debate is good humored, however. The deputy speaker has repeatedly threatened to suspend the house if the disorder does not cease shortly After 10 this morning, and was cautiously received by his supporters The speeches of Irish members were mostly rambling and uninteresting. Dawson, liberal, member for Carlow borough, said that Forster was seeking to impose laws against which the country would rise en masse. Gladstone's speech, in which he declared that he could not accept a compromise, was in reply to a suggestion of Parnell that dividing sittings now be taken if the government would agree to postpone debate on Forster's bill until Thursday Sir Stafford Northcote intimated readiness on the other side to continue the session if necessary. The house divided at 12 P M and decided to refuse to give precedence to Forster's protection bill was carried—251 to 33. The house adjourned until Thursday

Disaster at Cherbourg.

PARIS Jan 26—A boat used for harbor work at Cherbourg foundered to-day and its crew of eighteen persons were drowned. Eight bodies have already been recovered.

The Russian Victory.

LONDON, Jan 26—Gen. Skobeloff telegraphs from Geok Tepe the 24th, announcing that the Russians that day captured Geok Tepe and Denghilepe, after nine hours fighting, and that Tekke Turcomans are in full retreat The loss was enormous

LONDON, Jan 27.—Gen. Skobeloff telegraphs further from Geok Tepe as follows: Turcomans were pursued and cut down for a distance of fifteen versts. Our victory is complete. We captured a quantity of arms, cannon, ammunition and provisions Our loss is now being ascertained Our troops fought heroically.

DUTY OF JOURNALISTS.

Gen. Sherman at a banquet given by New York journalists recently, said in his post prandial remarks to the editors:

If you suppose you can build up the fame of this man and tear down the fame of that one, you fall into error. Men are known by their deeds. You cannot pull down the fame acquired by war or actual deeds done in battle Remember that men live by their deeds It is your office to record these deeds, and to explain and bring them into harmony and connection with the rest of the events of life

At which the editor of the Salt Lake Tribune takes great offense and says:

Suppose Gen Sherman's deeds had been performed in some wilderness where no journalist could have heralded them, and no power press have given them the stamp which insures immortality what would Gen Sherman's fame have been now? Ask the negroes who fought and died before the sword struck his harp to make war honorable and to give to the barbarous, theirs who murdered and pillaged around and through Troy a charm which all the crossing of time cannot wear away or dim It is well if some men are to be remembered "by their deeds" and not by their words But the ungrateful portion if the above does not compare with the egotism of the closing paragraph It is your office to record these deeds. That is the office of boys and young men generally, and if a real journalist sometimes bends down to such work it is only by way of relaxation from more serious duties. It is the office of the real journalist to call the hours from his signal station, to cry out when there is danger and when all is well; to feel the pulse of the world and to sound public wants in the ears of statesmen to sustain the overtired arm that is lifted upreared in horrid front to be the schoolmaster for those grown up children called men and women to search out and announce what is worth heralding in literature or science to magnify and dignify honest labor to watch the courts, the churches and the school houses, to see that there is neither sloth fraud nor incompetency in either to watch public officers and see that they are loyal to watch public men and see that they do not, under a shield of honor won long ago, develop petty and disgraceful traits

Country and City National Banks.

[From the New York Commercial Advertiser]

It is the misfortune in one sense, of the country national banks the main profits of which, at the outset, were on capital on that the funded stocks of the United States have since been diminished more than one half or will have been by July The difference to the city banks is not so important when the banking profits are on capital and deposits But withal there was no violation of faith by the government while it is the good fortune of the country that the high credit and flourishing revenues of the treasury have made rapid liquidation possible

Grant and Sherman at the Press Club.

[From the New York Sun]

Gen Grant is rapidly becoming a popular after dinner orator His speech to the Press club on Thursday evening was altogether the gem of the occasion, replete with wit and humor But what did Gen Sherman mean by patronizingly assuring the members of the Press club, "I regard your profession as an honorable one?" Pray did Gen Sherman really suppose the press stood in need of a certificate of good character from him?

Gladstone and the Irish Question.

[New York World]

It is no exaggeration to say that the outcome of the Irish question depends absolutely on Mr Gladstone. His age, his great experience in British affairs his temperament his unsurpassed power as an orator has acknowledged leadership of the dominant party in the house of commons, to an nothing of his official position as the practical sovereign of England all fasten to-day the eyes of the civilized world upon him as the arbiter for the moment of the issues of peace or war throughout Christendom. The materials are simple for the formation of an opinion as to what he will attempt Mr. Gladstone hates war Again and again during his Midlothian campaign he expressed his detestation of it. He kept his temper under the passionate demands of the United States in the matter of the Alabama claims, in a way which proved his sincere horror of war, and whatever else may be said of that settlement, it certainly did wonderfully promote the close social and financial intimacy which now exists between New York and London—an intimacy closer and stronger it is safe to say than exists between any other two commercial cities in the world under different governments.

What has Spoken Loose in Texas!

DALLAS, Jan 6—For several months a loud rumbling noise has been heard in the direction of Red river, fully fifty miles from any railroad Reports came from Blue Mound Henrietta Decatur, and in fact throughout the northwest, and May John Henry Brown, of Dallas, just back from an extensive exploring expedition, verifies all the reports and the matter is attracting much attention Many think it is of a volcanic nature Maj. Brown says it resembles several sounds, a distant waterfall, railway train in the night time the dolorous sound of wind in a pine forest. The range has not yet fully been from north to northwest It resembles somewhat the ominous noise described by Humboldt as preceding the earthquake of 1783 in Mexico, in which a village was destroyed, and the volcanic mountain of Jorullo heaved up in a single night. Scientific investigation is being demanded, and it is thought will be made, perhaps by the state authorities.

Death of a Brother of Major Anderson.

CHARLESTON, O, Jan 7—Col William Marshall Anderson, an old resident of this city, died at his home this afternoon, after a brief illness, in the seventy-third year of his age Col. Anderson is a brother of Major Anderson of Fort Sumter fame, and of ex-Governor Anderson of this state The Andersons were originally from Kentucky, though the Colonel lived in Chillicothe a number of years, and removed here about twenty five years ago

During the war Mr Anderson sympathized with the rebels and so bitter was he in his views that he declared he would not live under an abolition government, and went to Mexico, leaving his family behind He returned from there at the close of the rebellion but came near losing his life while there by yellow fever

With all his peculiar views Mr Anderson was a man of parts and held in high esteem by all who knew him He was a prominent member of the Catholic church

Personal Magnetism.

[From the Nation]

A Democratic Assemblyman at Albany has indirectly given the correspondent of the Herald a definition of personal magnetism, a thing much talked of in politics, but seldom or never described He said that in the contest for the speakership Sharpe would win "because he had more personal magnetism than Skinner" and he explained this by adding that Sharpe is one of those men who will go round and drink with the boys, while Skinner is all for temperance "There is so much personal magnetism now among local politicians that it is a pity that it can not be formed to account, like other forms of electricity, in lighting country towns Many a statesman's home might be kept light as day every night for the cost of his board if he would consent to let his magnetism be drawn upon for the public use, instead of wasting it in barrooms on the [illegible]

Survivals from the Greenback Era.

The financial debate yesterday obviously shows that with a considerable portion of the present house of representatives knowledge comes but wisdom lingers It might seem probable to any one not thoroughly acquainted with the unpenetrable obtuseness of some of our members of congress that the experience of the last few years would have convinced them of the folly of the financial theories which have been opposed to the policy of the government and also of the hopelessness of getting the people of the United States to owe them that policy and take to them the [illegible]

The Present Literary Drift

Railroad Legislation

[Denver Tribune]

One thing should be definitely understood before the discussion of a system of railroad legislation begins The object in such legislation must be to benefit the people not the individual members presenting the bills Legislation is for the masses—not to make capital for men

MANUFACTURING.

[Resources of Oregon]

No [illegible] business men can [illegible] serve the role of the northwest without being impressed and astonished that our manufacturing interests are so much neglected The men who are familiar with our natural resources are led to have no doubt I conclude that we are not possessed with facilities of no ordinary kind But those who are familiar with the natural conditions of the North Pacific know that such is not the situation There is much more money paid by the citizen for agricultural implements than for any other one item But when we add to this the fact that the greater proportion of household furniture clothing of every kind as well as iron nails glass etc which could be manufactured here as well as in other countries based upon the fact that we have all the raw materials at it is but proper to ask and no stranger, who we wonder that capital is not invested in the various factories that would supply our home demand We have the timber, yet we ship from the east nearly all our farming implements, we have timber yet very much of our furniture is shipped It is not an uncommon thing to see furniture shipped here from California which is made from Oregon lumber We have the wool, and yet it is shipped to Boston and sent back here in ready made clothing Our hides are sent east and made up and returned to us to wear There is a reason for this, and it is probable that the price of interest on money and the advantageous employment of capital in land investments has something to with it. But the day we trust is not distant when those in the east will be informed as to our wants as well as to the openings here for factories of manufactures If the northwest could but supply itself with such articles as can and will sometime be manufactured here, we would soon be the wealthiest and best-to-do people in the world

More Cabinet Making.

(By the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Times.)

Senator Blaine will resign his seat in the senate at an early day It will probably be handed in some time this month. By statutory limitations, the Maine legislature must adjourn within forty-five days from Jan 1st To delay resigning until after the legislature had adjourned would result in giving Plaisted a chance to appoint a greenback senator Mr Blaine will resign in time to allow Mr Frye to be elected senator in his place Mr Blaine takes very little interest in the senate proceedings He spends the greater part of his time in the cloak-rooms, talking with political associates.

Don Cameron now associates almost entirely with the Blaine crowd He has ceased to confide in the Grant senators, and when they attempt to question him, he is to use their own language as dumb as an oyster Besides Blaine Gov Foster, of Ohio, is regarded as the only other man certain to be a member of the cabinet. Who are the other gentlemen to be invited? The Blaine people are the only ones apparently, who have any reliable sources of information They say that the cabinet question will not be entirely settled until some time in February, but also add that certain men are already so favorably considered as to warrant their names being given great prominence. The Blaine people say that Senator Allison will probably have the treasury, and that L P. Morton may represent New York in the cabinet. Of the two names mentioned for the attorney generalship, Judge Hunt, of the southern court of claims and Solicitor-General Phillips, the former is regarded as having the better chance. Don Cameron is to be consulted about the war department, and it still continues to be asserted that he will name Gen John B Weaver of Bellefonte, Pa No name as yet overshadows that of Horace Davis as representative of the Pacific coast An intimate friend of both Gen. Garfield and Senator Blaine said that Gen Garfield proposes to harmonize all elements of the republican party so far as he can, but he does propose first to satisfy himself The Grant people say that the cabinet is practically to be made of Blaine men In reality they will only have one man in the cabinet if the slate mentioned above is adhered to, unless Don Cameron is now classed as a Blaine man Senator Conkling has, within the last day or two, assumed a mask of rigid reserve, even with his intimate friends, when they began to talk about the future. He does not propose to get ang[illegible] advance of the formation of the Blaine cabal to break down his political fortunes.

Wordsworth and Dickens.

Mr Moncure D Conway, in his lake sketches in the February Harper, observes:

It is doubtful whether any thinker of equal culture will even again feel a passion for the beauty of inanimate nature like that which Wordsworth felt, or so strangely repeat the motions under which ancient nature-worship grew. The earth and air around him were so populous with the creations of his imagination these being exalted to the stature of the exceptionally grand natural objects amid which he dwelt, that man and his affairs became petty, paltry, vulgar, in the presence of his majestic images. Yet after, all a large part of nature is human nature Wordsworth once invited Charles Dickens to visit him at Rydal Mount perusing the glories of that region The novelist declined, and had something to say for the glories of London The wonder of these sights impels me into night walks about the crowded streets and I often shed tears in the rustling Strand from fullness of joy at so much life All these emotions must be strange to you, so are your rural emotions strange to me Wordsworth was not without human sympathy and benevolence, it was his hope and aim to console, to bless, to uplift and encourage hearts and minds; but he thought of these in individuals undergoing the checks and experiences of existence; the conception of universal humanity—progressive triumphant—was a blossoming plant which the French revolution tore by the root from his heart and brain. A promise by the years a hint could give him more to him in old age than anything that concerned the masses of mankind

One need not therefore mourn that Wordsworth's calm marks an extinct Wordsworth's shire while he rejoices that such a pure and saintly mind and character brought the cheer for the generation in which we live, by which it is consecrated to truthful virtue.

He found us when the sod had bound
Our souls in its benumbing ground
He spoke, and loosed our hearts in tears
He laid us as we lay at birth
On the cool flowery lap of earth
Smiles broke from us and we had ease
The hills were round us and the breeze
Went o'er the sun lit fields again
Our foreheads felt the wind and rain
Our youth returned for there was shed
On spirits that had long been dead
Spirits dried up and of scholy furled
The freshness of the early world

Origin of the Bureau

In a curious article on "Army Etymology" in the United Service Review Col Closson writes:

The word bureau is not devoid of interest outside of its ominous importance at present when the tendency everywhere seems to set towards a centralization of power crushing out by this formidable piece of furniture any independence of action and destroying individual freedom in all what are called corporations in business ring, in politics and unions in trade the caucus of congress and the convocation of the church

There was in old times a common brown cloth made of wool and called burrel It gave to the poorer classes who wore it the name of borel just as war has its traditions of red coat blue jacket and gray back The root is probably seen in burr and may be recognized in that portion of ecclesiastical dress known as birretta As occupations have furnished family names as those who made the burrel are well represented in the census lists of to-day as Burrills.

The word bureau belongs here and thus had a primary reference to color signifying a desk covered with the dark, coarse cloth in question It is akin to the Spanish word for donkey, burro, following the example of the English equivalent in its production of a name from the

PLYMOUTH CHURCH

Mr Beecher has Good Luck in Selling the Pews

[From the New York World]

Before the sale of pews at Plymouth church began last night Mr Beecher said We have [illegible] to say in regard to the sale of pews at Plymouth church. It is not to be derived from this source [illegible] adequate to the ordinary expenses of this church and although there are large [illegible] have seemed to some as though it were desirable this fact should be collected I may perhaps be permitted to say that in the extraordinary expenses to which this church was put by its being persecuted a very large amount of money—not far from $200,000—was expended in defending itself and its pastor, and when you consider that this money was largely raised by subscription, and that only when the council was called the largest council ever convened on the continent of America, all the expenses, of which traveling expenses, both coming and going, and maintenance here were also met by the church which entailed a burden of debt—eternal debt—which has never been spoken of, but which exists up to the present standing—nearly $20,000 It was owed to ourselves for I was borrowed from the memorial fund, and through the very close administration of our financial affairs, which we owe to the president of the board of trustees, Mr. H. P. Claflin that debt has been reduced $10,000 Of course it is not a debt that can plague us but it is one which no very much desires to have paid off. I will give place to the orator of the evening And I give place, feeling as nobody else can feel This church was born in my arms, I have been its only pastor I have in vigorous health, but when a man has come to my time of life we are admonished that he may be called away from earthly work at any time, and when from year to year I look out at the gathering, I have a strong feeling that when the year comes round again I shall look at it from a different sphere. But, God willing, I am in life and health, and, God willing, I shall be able to administer to you as I have in the past to the best of my ability You will bear witness that for 34 years there has never been a quarrel nor a squabble in this church There has never been in this congregation, made up of big-headed, vigorous men, men capable of driving their own business without help from anybody—there has never been one quar

The trial after hearing the evidence for the prosecution and the defense, lasted from Saturday afternoon until Sunday morning, when the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and the defendant was discharged.

MRS. DEMENT.—In justice to Mrs. Dement, who has been under the [illegible] of Coroner Connor for quite a while, we are pleased to say that she has been acquitted herself entirely of the charge of murdering her infant daughter.

I. O. G. T. ELECTION.—At the regular meeting of Lodge of Good Templars, held last evening, the following officers were elected and installed for the ensuing term: W. C. T., Wm. Hall; V. T., Mrs. Mary Hill; Chaplain, Mrs. Jennie Grey; M. T., G. Wright.

THE WEATHER.—No change has occurred in the weather during the past twenty-four hours. The weather here has been cloudy and threatening, but there has been no rain. The advices from the interior indicate that there has been a heavy fall of snow in the mountains, and that the roads are blockaded in many places. Last night's dispatches from Eastern Oregon indicate a change in the weather, and that the storm is over.

A GOOD SCHEME.—Mr. Ellis, who has been running a grand exhibition through the Willamette valley, has decided to remain in Albany over Sunday and give a free exhibition to the children of the town. This is a good scheme, and will undoubtedly result in a large crowd.

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 28, 1881.

CITY.

Home Sociable.—Bethel Home Lodge of Philosophia, Temple of International Good Templars, had another of their free sociables last evening in Bethel Hall. The attendance was large, more than fifty seafaring men were present and of course was a Good Templar; about the same number of landspeople were present. After singing, reading and reciting, the company were invited to coffee and sandwiches furnished by the members of the above organizations. Mrs. E. C. Lewis, the caterer of the occasion, deserves great credit. The conductor of the evening, Mr. J. Mc-Kinnon, one of the sons of the ocean, seemed quite at home in this new role. Mr. Marvin gave two recitations. The inimitably comical Mr. Hooper, of the bark Dovenby, fully sustained his reputation and kept all hands happy and glee some. The ladies sang appropriate and welcome songs. Mrs. Anderson presided at the organ very acceptably. Altogether the entertainment proved itself a grand success. Little Miss Alice Clark, a lady of eight summers, recited quite touchingly a beautiful piece entitled "One Grass too many."

Sons of Walter Thessing.—The son of Dr. J. Thessing of Milwaukie was found dead last Tuesday morning under the following circumstances: On Monday Walter Thessing, aged 18 years, took a gun and went to the lake, near Milwaukie, for the purpose of killing some ducks. Nothing more was seen or heard of him until Tuesday morning, when he was found dead between 7 and 10 o'clock, lying on one of those feet from the road, about three-quarters of a mile from his father's house. The place of him was a couple of ducks, carefully placed in the middle of the road, and then some distance further on his gun was found, carefully placed across a log. The deceased is known to have long troubled with heart disease and consumption, and finding himself rapidly consuming the evidently left the house and gun where they could be found, and vainly attempted to reach home without them. Apparently he had died without a struggle. Many of the citizens of Milwaukie are looking for him all Monday and Tuesday, but their efforts did not meet with any success until Tuesday morning.

Fashioned Fun.—The boys living in the neighborhood of Fourth and A streets have erected a mud rink block the most substantial, evenly-paved "flying Dutchman" ever used in Portland. Every post is firmly imbedded so that it does not vary a particle, the axle is an inch in diameter and stands a foot above the post, and the whirling arm is a heavy joist twenty-four feet long, twelve inches wide and three inches thick. The machine works "way up." It "teeters" the least bit, and by the use of but one foot as it nears the ground, fair speed can be made without additional motive power, but when two active boys take hold and "give-'em" revolutions per minute can be had. In case of dizziness for hand hold slipping, or a sting, there's nice, smooth turf to fall on. The rink was well patronized yesterday, the fee of only three pins per ride, and there is every need for a successful season during the school vacation next week. No boy who has any spirit and can hook the family pin cushion should fail to do so.

Grain Estimates.—W. S. Chapman, city surveyor, has completed the estimates for work required for the proposed sewer to be constructed through D street from North Tenth street to the river, and the same in the office of the city auditor. The quantities of the sewers will require 980 lineal feet of 15-inch terra cotta pipe, 2980 lineal feet of 12-inch terra cotta pipe, 200 lineal feet of 6-inch terra cotta pipe, 13 manholes, complete, 8 Y branches of terra-cotta pipe, 58 Y branches 15x6 terra cotta pipe, 18 Y branches 12x6 terra cotta pipe, 141 Y branches 12x6 terra cotta pipe, 12 8 joints for catch basins, 13 iron gates for lamp holes, 6280 cubic yards excavation and refilling, 400 lineal feet of plank to be taken up and relaid, 2400 lineal feet of macadam to be taken up and relaid, 185 lineal feet of walk to be taken up and relaid, 100 cubic yards of rubble stone, 100 cubic yards fresh earth for re-filling, 4000 feet of lumber, 13 round corner blocks of wood and laid.

Men Wanted.—An advertisement has been running in The Oregonian, calling for some 300 men to cut, but the advertiser we learn could not raise white men and had to get Chinamen. And to-day we find men, stout, hearty looking fellows, begging passers by for money to get a square meal. One of these fellows should be made to work or starve to death. There is work if sought for and many of it, but the majority of those who cry out "no work," really do not want it when it comes to them. When it comes to any easy job like one advertised a few days ago, there is no end to applicants. In the case in question 50 answers were received.

I. O. U. W.—The various lodges of Salem will this evening give a grand entertainment at Reed's Opera House. Hon. J. F. Caples of this city having accepted an invitation to deliver the oration for the occasion and Hon. R. P. Earhart, will deliver the address of welcome. Among other attractions Miss Nettie Lee of Albany, one of the finest vocalists in the city, will render a selection, accompanied by Miss Emma Lemon on the piano. Everybody is invited to attend. Supper will be served at the Chemeketa Hotel to members and their families and all members of the order in good standing.

Leaves New Market.—Mr. F. W. Stechhan, formerly of D. W. Prentice & Co., who so successfully managed the engagements of the Hayman-Marlowe-Cowell Concert Co., the Estelle Melville Opera Co. and Robert McWade, has leased New Market Theater for five years. The next engagement will be Haley & Owens, and he will be followed at regular intervals with the best attractions that visit San Francisco.

Odd Fellows Installed.—Salem Lodge A. O. U. W. has been instituted with 27 charter members. Following are the officers: O. D. Hutton, P. M., W.; John Minto, M. W.; John C. Booth, G. F.; R. Westacott, R.; J. C. Klein, G.; E. M. Eder, recorder; J. W. Knox, receiver; S. Kinsley, F.; H. C. Wandt, I. W.; P. F. Wolf, O. W. Dispensation is granted to lodge to receive members at charter rates for 30 days.

Sudden Woman Dead.—Mrs. Sarah Lee, widow of the late Rev. N. Lee, departed this life at her residence near Dallas, Polk county, on the 15th of January. Deceased was aged 61 years and 11 months. Accompanied with her husband, Mrs. Lee came to Oregon in 1847. She was a most exemplary Christian, respected in life by all who knew her and mourned in death.

Stealing.—Henry Whittle was arrested yesterday on complaint of his wife, charged with defacing property. The case was tried before Justice Caldwell, who fined defendant $10 and costs. The defendant demanded a jury trial. After hearing the testimony in the case, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, whereupon defendant was discharged.

Justice.—In justice to Miss Castleman, who gave a recitation last evening, it can be said that the "ay" in Bad Accident spoke her initial boy. She has taken the personal instructions of Mrs. T. J. Cronin for only about two weeks. How well she has learned, reflects credit both on herself and her instructor.

I. O. G. T. Election.—The officers elected by Lily Lodge of Good Templars for the ensuing quarter are: W. C. T., Wm. Everest; W. V. T., Fannie McKee; W. S., Paschal Hill; W. F. S., Edward Grey; W. T., Mary Hill; W. M., Jno. Everest; W. C., Annie Gray; W. I. G., Mita Hill; W. O. G., Y. F. Vaught.

Fish Warrens.—No reports were received yesterday from Eastern Oregon, as the lines were down. The weather here has moderated a little, and for seven hours preceding midnight there was cold rain and sleet. Last night's weather bulletins do not give indications of much milder weather to-day.

Officers Elected.—The board of trustees of the People's Transportation Company of Vancouver has elected W. H. H. King as engineer; Wm. Palmer, who was formerly on the Vancouver, fireman, and Henry B. Smith steward. The captain and the purser the board have not yet been chosen.

Hall Secured.—The Spiritualists and Freethinkers have leased a room at 189 First street, over the Singer sewing machine store, which will be known as Liberty Hall, where regular services will be held every Sunday at 1 P. M., and 7:30. The hall is 30x24 feet, and will be comfortably furnished.

A Good Number.—The current issue of the Resources of Oregon and Washington consists of sixteen pages, and is filled with very interesting and valuable information concerning the northwest. It is the best number of that journal ever published.

Leave of Absence.—The leave of absence for seven days, granted on surgeon's certificate of disability to 2d Lieutenant Sol. E. Sparrow, 21st infantry, by post orders No. 11, is, upon the recommendation of the medical director, extended one month.

Off Again.—Mr. E. M. Bearden, who was stricken with paralysis last October, and who, for many weeks has been an inmate of Good Samaritan hospital, has so far recovered from the effects of the stroke as to be able to appear again on the streets.

Executive Appointments.—His Excellency Gov. Moser, yesterday appointed H. Y. Thompson, W. H. Adams and C. P. Ferry of this city, notaries public for the ensuing two years and Wm. Harney of San Francisco, commissioner of deeds for Oregon.

Commissions Issued.—Commissions were issued from the office of the secretary of state to Thos. Adams, as captain, J. H. Kennedy as 1st lieutenant and Jos. Deltrick as 2d lieutenant of battery A, 1st regiment, Oregon Artillery, O. S. M.

Married.—Mr. Mathew L. White, of Sauvie's Island, was united in marriage with Miss Flora E. Todd, on the 5th of January. The marriage took place at the National Hotel, and was performed by I. T. Sykes, justice of the peace.

Total Number of Patients.—The total number of patients received at St. Vincent's Hospital since its opening is 2680; of that number 1590 were Catholics and 1090 were non-Catholics. At present there are 45 patients under treatment.

The largest stock of Pianos and Organs, at Simon Blum's, First St., between Ash and Pine.

LAND LEAGUE ENTERTAINMENT.

Dress circle, parquette and gallery at New Market Theater, were crowded to overflowing last evening on the occasion of the entertainment given there for the benefit of the Irish Land League of Portland. The programme, which was one of more than usual variety and interest, was carried out in a very acceptable manner.

The first selection was singing, by the section of the Portland Turn Verein.

Following this came a short but very excellent address by P. H. D'Arcy, of Salem, on the wrongs of Ireland and the character, spirit and mission of the Irish Land League. The speaker closed his address by reciting, in effective style, an appropriate poem.

Mr. C. A. Coulomb rendered the vocal solo, "White Squall," with good effect. He has a rather rich and pleasant voice of very fair cultivation and composes and sings with creditable taste.

Miss Castleman favored the audience with a recitation which won for the lady not only a vigorous encore, but also a handsome bouquet. Although a novice before the footlights, Miss Castleman gave unmistakable indications of the possession of talent. There were some very marked defects in elocution. The lady appeared ill at ease, constrained, and at times awkward. These crudities, however, could in her case be easily overcome by study, practice and familiarity with the stage. With a little training down of voice and gesture, Miss Castleman can hope to succeed.

The duet by Miss Kenealy and Mr. VanBeurden, "See the Pale Moon," was rendered with taste and feeling, though a little lacking in spirit.

The solo "Esmeralda," as sung by Mrs. H. D. Pitt, with orchestral accompaniment, was well received and won both a hearty recall and a floral tribute.

The song and dance by Mr. Seldon was received with shouts of laughter and the audience would not be satisfied until he gave a genuine Irish jig.

The dialogue between little Dot and Willie Bowcer was one of the most amusing selections of the evening, and the applause which compelled these little folks to reappear attested how well the audience enjoyed the treat.

Miss Rachael Mundet favored the audience with a selection from "La Traviata," executed quite skillfully. She was recalled, and sang "Beautiful Eyes" with much feeling.

Mr. Von Beuren rendered the "Lakes of Killarney," and was followed by Miss Kenealy, who rendered with a modest, unaffected style a simple Irish ballad.

A grand allegorical tableau of Ireland concluded Part 1st.

Concluding the evening's performance came the comedy of "Andy Blake."

Another entertainment will be given this evening for the same purpose. An entertaining programme will be rendered. Full particulars will be found elsewhere.

A MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.

WM. B. JACKSON, OF HILLSBORO, SHOT WHILE IN BED.

Himself and Wife the Only Persons having any Knowledge of the Deed, and they Refuse to Say a Word.

Late Monday evening, or at an early hour Tuesday morning, Mrs. W. B. Jackson, of Hillsboro, Washington county, went into a boot and shoe shop, where her husband was playing cards and took him home. About 4 o'clock in the morning she called on Dr. Bailey, requesting him to visit her husband, who was found lying in bed with a bullet hole in his forehead. The ball had entered the center of the forehead, glanced to the left and came out near the temple. He had been bleeding profusely, the pillows and bedding being soaked with blood. It was evident that he had arisen after being shot, as a stream of blood was traced from the bed to the door of the bedroom. An examination showed that his skull was fractured, but the wound is not considered of itself fatal. The attending physician fears, however, that erysipelas, to which Mr. Jackson is subject, may set in, and, in that case, the wound may result in death.

The affair is shrouded in deepest mystery. Both Mr. and Mrs. Jackson refuse to speak on the matter, and when questioned simply meet inquiries with that refusals to give any information whatever. It is evident that the deed was done with Mr. Jackson's revolver, a Smith & Wesson seven shooter, as well. Mr. Jackson always kept the weapon about the house, every barrel loaded. It was found about noon with one barrel discharged, wrapped up in his pantaloons, which were lying on the floor under the bed. The discharged bullet was not discovered. The affair, as might be expected, has created no little excitement, the relitives of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson serving only to heighten it. No solution to the mystery is offered. It is certain that he was not shot by any one from the outside, and besides no wife no one else was in the house. Only two other theories can be given, and gossipers are about equally divided as to the theory of attempted suicide. That Mrs. Jackson did not raise an alarm if such an attempt was made seems very strange. But nothing is known for certainty, and will not be until one or the other breaks their silence.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are pioneers of Washington county, exemplary citizens, and have been much esteemed by their acquaintances. Mr. Jackson was a farmer until a few years ago, when he moved to Hillsboro, his accumulation of wealth allowing him to live without work. They have no children.

MILITARY AND PERSONAL.

[Vancouver Independent.]

The irregularities of the mail this winter delays military business very much, and this state of affairs is detrimental to the service.

Colonel E. D. Baily, late medical director, was in Washington a few days ago, and obtained two months' leave of absence before being again assigned to duty.

General Edward Schriver, who visited this department last summer in his official capacity as assistant inspector general, has been placed upon the retired list.

General Frank Wheaton, in command of the department, arrived at headquarters Tuesday at noon. He was received with a salute of eleven guns, according to his rank.

Gen. N. A. Miles and Col. H. A. Morrow of this department are officially announced as members of the Whittaker court martial, ordered to convene in New York on Thursday last.

Lieut. W. E. Berkheimer, 3d artillery, late in charge of the military telegraph line in this department, is now acting signal officer in charge of the instrument room at Washington, D. C.

A dispatch was received on Saturday from Capt. H. H. Pierce stating that he would return home from San Francisco this week. The cause of his sudden and unexpected return is not known here.

Lieut. H. H. Benham, 2d infantry, arrived at Vancouver barracks from San Francisco on Tuesday, and has been assigned to duty with the detachment of recruits for the 2d infantry now at the barracks.

Lieut. E. S. Farrow, 21st infantry, has applied to congress to be reimbursed for personal losses sustained through the burning of the government storehouse at Vancouver barracks, W. T., March 8, 1860.

In special order of Dec. 29th, directing Major A. H. Nickerson, formerly A. A. G. of this department, to report at Little Rock, Ark., as assistant adjutant general, headquarters department of Arkansas, was revoked, and he was relieved from duty in the adjutant general's office, and directed to report to Gen. Wm. B. Hazen for duty with the signal service, where he has already assumed the duties as executive officer of the signal service.

THE NORTHWEST.

Western Oregon.

Wheat is quoted at 75c per bushel at the Oregon City mills.

Snow fell to the depth of several inches in Lafayette on the night of the 20th.

A man named Anderson was arrested in Oregon City on the 20th inst., for forgery committed in Albany.

Growing grain looks finely throughout Clackamas county. Farmers are plowing for spring sowing, where practicable.

The masquerade ball given for the benefit of the Clackamas City Fire Department, last Friday evening was largely attended and netted about $240.

Some thieves broke into the store of H. C. Lewis, at Viola, Clackamas county, on the morning of February 1st, and stole from $5 to $20 in silver coin and checks.

The Eighth ward district disturbance case was finally ended by the one who placed the firecrackers in the stove pleading guilty. He was fined $25 and costs, amounting to about $30. The other eight were discharged.

Oregon City Enterprise: The fire alarm called the department out on Monday evening, but the fire was found to be on the point, in the house owned by Mr. Hadley, but formerly owned by Mr. F. Conn. Before assistance could be procured the house was one mass of flames. The entire building and contents, with the exception of a few chairs, some bedding and an organ, was burned. Mr. Hadley, although insured, managed to save his important papers, and during the progress of the fire was enabled to insult, cuss to some one the number of places to take to different directions, and the boards of the sidewalk to fall, which confounded the smug little sum of $1000. The house is fully covered by insurance. The house was built by Gov. P. H. Ogden in Jan. 1852; place to the former residence of A. McKinley, Esq. It will be remembered by old Oregonians and the students of Oregon's early history that Gov. Ogden, of Hon. H. D. Co., was the gentleman who secured the release of the prisoner of the Whitman massacre. In the destruction of this house another old landmark is gone.

Washington Territory.

The wind on Tuesday made the Vancouver public school building squeak and shake to that extent that the school had to be dismissed to prevent a panic.

The steamer Empire has increased her rates of freight to $3 and $4 per ton, between San Francisco and Puget Sound ports. These rates are the same as charged by the P. C. S. S. Co's steamers.

Port Townsend Argus: By an accidental bursting of a pump pipe at the iron furnace this week the blast could not be started on Tuesday as was expected. It will, however, start sometime early next week if nothing unusual occurs.

A tramp who had been prowling for several days about Vancouver, stabbed a man on the street one evening this week, inflicting an ugly gash in the neck. The wound is painful but not dangerous. On being arrested an open knife was found in his pocket. He is thought to be an escaped lunatic.

Gen. Milroy is almost daily in receipt of inquiries from those whose claims for losses during the Indian war of 1855-56, appear in the list published in the Courier. Most of those claims are honest and placed below the actual value of the property lost, and should have been paid twenty years ago.

The directors of the Seattle school district are contemplating the erection of a new school building with capacity for accommodating 400 or 500 pupils. Before such action could be had the proposition would have to be submitted to the taxpayers of the city, and after that a special tax levied for the building fund. Ample funds for all uses would not exceed probably five mills.

An appropriate eulogy was delivered by Judge Jacobs upon the late Irving Ballard before the district court that commenced in Seattle on the 24th inst. Resolutions commemorative of his ability and integrity as a lawyer, and his worth as a citizen, were passed by the Seattle bar on the 22d inst., which, together with the remarks of Judge Jacobs, were ordered placed upon the records of the court. As a further tribute of respect that body adjourned until Tuesday morning.

Intelligencer: The famous Yesler-Coleman controversy has at last been brought to a close. The case grew out of the sale of Yesler's old mill property to Coleman, and the subsequent burning of the mill. A stipulation has been signed by the two principals in which they agree to settle all their legal difficulties and have the various cases now in court dismissed. By the terms of the stipulation, Coleman is to pay Yesler $39,000 cash, and gives up all claim to the old mill site, and what personal property has been sold under execution. Coleman gets back his brick block and has all his other property released.

SUPREME COURT.

SALEM, Jan. 27.

The court met at 10:30 A. M., and Watson, J., announced the decision of the court sustaining the motion to dismiss the appeal in the case of F. B. Dunn and others, respondents, against the board of regents of the State University, appellants, except as to F. B. Dunn, on the ground that the other respondents had not been served with the notice of appeal as required by law.

F. B. Dunn vs the Board of Regents of the State University; argued and submitted.

When the court adjourns to-day, it will stand adjourned until next Wednesday, when the cases on the docket of the third district will be taken up and disposed of in their regular order.

Stephen Minard, appellant, vs Douglas county, respondent—Judgment of the court below reversed.

Syllabus.—Where a petition for laying out a highway was presented to the county court, and the notice of the application given to interested parties was not signed by the petitioners, and the proof of service stated that the notice was posted in three public places, without stating where those places were; held, that the laying out of a highway through the land of a private owner is a taking of private property for public use; that the notice required by the statute was in the nature of process and should have been signed by the petitioners, and that a notice signed A. P. Kennedy, attorney for applicants, was a nullity. Semble—That what is a public place, referred to in the statute, is a mixed question of law and fact, and that the proof of service should have stated the places where the notices were posted, so that the court could see whether they had been properly posted or not. Still there is nothing doing in wheat The freight market has shown as much animation since the recent advance in San Francisco as could reasonably be expected with the very few ships open to engagement on this market Ten days ago with the depressed feeling in wheat and the apparent reluctance of shippers to meet the market it would have been difficult to charter ... but to-day when there is no more disposition to sell ... would be readily given for spot or soon arrival This shows with more certainty than would ... of arguments that there will be no decline in freight rates for some time to come So much for the pretensions of those who have persisted in the face of contrary data that ships would be plentiful and freights lower by this time or sooner The organ which styles itself the Farmer in this city has directly damaged many farmers to the extent of four or five dollars per ton in counseling them to hold when wheat was ... per cental, is now being worth but ... per cental While shippers are willing to give ... for freight to the United Kingdom, the two or three from ships looking for re-charter will not accept less than ... instead and while ... is offered ... is asked and so the freight market stands at this writing We could wish to offer more comfortable assurances but however unpalatable, it is best that the truth be made known One of the most injurious results to our commercial interests owing to the spare rates in our market for several months past has been that several ships perhaps twelve to fifteen all told, have offered at fair charter rates to come here for loading but our exporters have declined them owing to the causes above stated and they have been diverted to other channels of trade The new rate with grievous effect and aggravates the pretensions of the few who are in a position to re-charter We have not seen the end of the chapter yet ...
